

Mary Alice McKenzie joins Paul Frank + Collins to lead Employment + Labor Practice

Mary Alice McKenzie has joined the Burlington law firm Paul Frank + Collins as Of Counsel to lead the firm's Employment and Labor Practice.

Ms. McKenzie will focus her practice on the representation of businesses and institutions in such areas as policy and procedure development and revision, human resource management and compliance issues, collective bargaining, contract negotiations and interpretation, and grievance hearings.

"Mary Alice is a highly respected Vermont businesswoman and an excellent strategic fit for our firm. Her unique combination of hands-on business experience as President and CEO of McKenzie of Vermont and, more recently, as General Counsel for Vermont State Colleges, will enhance our ability to represent our clients in all aspects of employment and labor law," said Alan D. Port, PF+C President.

Ms. McKenzie earned her bachelor's degree from St. Mary's College and her J.D. from Valparaiso University School of Law. She is a member of the Vermont and Illinois bar associations and a member of the National Association of College and University Attorneys. Ms. McKenzie is a Member of the Board of Directors of Central Vermont Public Service Corporation, Vermont Electric Power Company, Associated Industries of Vermont and Vermont Energy Partnership.

Formed in 1968, Paul Frank + Collins P.C. is a full-service law firm serving commercial, institutional and individual clients throughout the United States and Canada.
