Press Release

Santo Longo joins Paul Frank + Collins Real Estate and Development Team

Burlington, VT, August 2006: Paul Frank + Collins is pleased to announce that Santo Longo has joined the Firm's Real Estate and Development Team as Of Counsel.

Prior to joining Paul Frank + Collins, Mr. Longo had a private practice in Connecticut with an emphasis on real estate development, permitting and enforcement issues. From 1994 – 2004 Mr. Longo practiced environmental, land use and real estate law in the Hartford offices of LeBoeuf, Lamb, Green and MacRae, where he served as the firm's pro bono coordinator representing children in Juvenile Court cases involving abuse and neglect. "We are very excited to someone with Santo's strengths joining our team here at PF+C, his experience in property development and permitting, federal and state litigation, and regulatory compliance/enforcement will provide our clients with an even greater service depth," said Peter M. Collins, Firm Co-Founder and Real Estate & Development Practice Group Leader.

Mr. Longo received his J.D. from University of Connecticut (with Honors) in 1994 and his M.A. in Land Use Planning (with Honors) from the University of Massachusetts in 1991 and his B.A. from Amherst College in 1985.

Formed in 1968, Paul Frank + Collins, P.C. is a full-service law firm serving commercial, institutional and individual clients throughout the United States and Canada.
